ON RENAMING STREETS

Editor of The Courier-Gazette:—

The writer is most interested in your articles concerning the naming of a street for the late David Talbot. The suggestion is a good one and should excite a discussion which will result in a wise selection. I fear, however, if we chose the highway mentioned by our esteemed Postmaster our efforts might be lost in its larger and greater significance, for the road between Camden and Rockland is a part of the Atlantic Highway. For this reason I favor the original suggestion of Middle street.

HAUL TRAWLERS UP

Boston and Gloucester Owners Balk At High Cost Of Operation.

The following is from the Boston
Sunday Globe:

"Owing to the high cost of operation, eight steam trawlers owned by Boston and Gloucester interests have been laid up, and it is reported others of the fleet will be placed out of commission.
The steam trawler Roseway, which has recently been under charter carrying cloth to New York, will be sold.

"There is said to have been a marked falling off in the demand for food fish.
Receipts here so far this year decreased nearly 1,500,000 pounds of groundfish compared with the same period a year ago, but the market has been unable to absorb all that has been landed and much of it became un-marketable.

"From Jan. 1 to the present time 1130 vessels brought in 61,388,705 pounds of fish. For the same period last year 1157 vessels brought 62,745,955 pounds."

BLAINES AT HOME

Remains of the Distinguished Statesman and Wife Now Rest In Augusta.

The body of James G. Blaine, who is recorded on history's pages as Maine's most distinguished statesman, and that of his wife, Harriet Stan-wood Blaine, were disinterred at Washington, D. C., last week, and buried Sunday with impressive ceremonies in Forest Grove cemetery, Augusta.

The bodies of Mr. and Mrs. Blaine arrived on the 4:05 train Sunday afternoon in a special car. Adjutant General George McL. Presson and Colonel Francis Farnum, representing the State, accompanied the bodies from Washington. Members of Mr.
Blaine's immediate family escorted by William L. Swift of Augusta and Elmer
S. Bird of Rockland, members of the Governor's council, were in a special Pullman attached to the train. Fremont J. Fletcher, Harry Barney, Chester Redmond and Edward Lataneau, four American Legion men, boarded the train at Hallowell, to assist in delivering the caskets into the hands of the active bearers, who were also Legion men. As the train pulled into the Augusta station a large gathering of citizens and former friends was at hand to see the two polished black caskets which were almost hidden under a wealth of roses and foliage and were guarded by the former comrades of Lieutenant Walker Blaine Beale.

The honorary bearers were Gov.
Milliken, Leon F. Higgins of Brewer, president of the Senate; Frank G.
Farrington of Augusta, Speaker of the House of Representatives; Chief Justice Leslie C. Cornish of the Supreme Judicial Court of Maine, Ex-Chief Justice William Penn Whitehouse of Augusta and Mayor Burleigh Martin of Augusta.

The active bearers were members of James Fitzgerald Post 2, American Legion, of Augusta. The committal service was conducted by Rev. Dr.
James H. Enoch, pastor of the South
Parish Congregational Church of Augusta, who was Mr. Blaine's minister.
Members of the immediate family present at the services were James G.
Blaine 2d, Mrs. Harriet Blaine Beale and Mrs. Emmett Blaine. The lot where the bodies were buried was purchased by Mrs. Blaine in 1896, three years after her husband's death.
With Councilor Bird at the ceremonies were Mrs. Elmer S. Bird, Mr. and Mrs. Adriel W. Bird and Mrs. Annie Simmons, all of Rockland.

Tonight Rockland Lodge F. & A. M. has work on the M. M. degree with re-

A CLASS OF FIFTY-SEVEN

Rockland High School Makes New Record—Graduation
Takes Place Thursday Night.

A program appropriate to Maine's centennial year will be presented for the commencement exercises of Rockland High School, in Park Theatre, Thursday evening, and the participants will be the flower of the largest class that this school has ever sent forth.
The program follows:

March—Flag of Victory—R. H. S. Orchestra
Prayer—Rev. Pliny A. Allen
Chorus—"State of Maine,"
Class of 1920
Salutatory—"Norumbega's Son,"
Donald T. Hastings
"Our Woman Pioneer,"
Edith A. Benner
"Maine, the Beautiful,"
Margaret E. Keyes
Chorus—"Almond Blossoms,"
Girls of 1920
Class Oration—"A Bit of Hope,"
Thelma E. Oton
Vocal Duets—"With the Stream," Lois E. Patterson and Adelaide L. Kimball
"Real Traveler of a Maine Girl,"
Margaret E. Keyes
"Maine As An Inspiration,"
D. Lewis Toothaker
Chorus—"The Skippers' St. Ives,"
Boys of 1920
Class Poem—"A Bit of Hope,"
Thelma E. Oton
"The French Pioneer,"
John Donald Coughlin

Piano, Paul D. Wilbur
Valedictory—"E. H. S. Orchestra"
Leona K. Reed
Presentation of Diplomas
Class Ode
Benediction
Music—"E. H. S. Orchestra"

The class this year is the largest which has ever completed the High School course numbering 57 students.
The class of 1916 had 53 students, and the class of 1912 had 52. Although it is supposed to be a woman's suffrage year, the interesting fact remains that in the class of 1920 there are 32 boys and 25 girls, a ratio entirely new to this school. Miss Anna E. Coughlin, the principal, is very proud of the fine showing made by the young women, and she is also quite positive that no other community approximating Rockland's size has such a large class. Concord High School of Augusta has just graduated a class of 50.

Following is a complete list of the Rockland graduates, with name of parent or guardian in parenthesis:

HARDING AND COOLIDGE

That a dark horse would be named by the Republican National Convention became clearly evident to those experienced in such matters as the campaign closed with Wood, Lowden and Johnson dividing the delegates and each faction stubbornly refusing as the convention balloting proceeded to yield in favor of the other. When the convention had arrived at the point where one of the little considered candidates had got to be selected, it was a sound judgment that picked out the Senator from Ohio—a pivotal state and a man of the highest character and ability. In Warren G. Harding the Republicans have found a candidate of ripe experience and enlarged vision, conservative, practical and a high-type American.

Calvin Coolidge is a man of the same degree. It is a ticket in which the West and the East admirably join, either of its two men great enough to stand at the head of it. That it will receive the enthusiastic support of Republicans of every type, as well as of many Democrats wearied with the failure of their own party leaders, is the opinion immediately registered by newspapers throughout the country and heard upon the lips of Republicans everywhere.

NOMINATE PARKHURST

This paper hopes that in the primaries of next Monday the Republicans of Knox county will register their votes for Col. Frederick H. Parkhurst of Bangor, as their candidate for the next Governor of Maine.

This should be a Republican year in national politics. We believe an end should be put to the one-man style of government that has grown up under Woodrow Wilson and that it has got to be done by the only great political party opposed to his administration. The result of Maine's election on November 3 is bound to exert a great influence upon the presidential election occurring two months later. A Republican Governor elected here by one of the old-fashioned majorities such as used to make Maine conspicuous, will sound the keynote for November. The friends of the party ought to be careful to choose in the primaries the man likely to be the most effective in producing such a result.

On a review of all the facts in the case, and intending no reflection upon the other honorable aspirants to the position, we are for Col. Parkhurst, not only because of his stalwart Republicanism, his patriotic services during the stress of war and his intellectual abilities and capacity, but because in addition to these essential qualities he is a proven and rousing organizer and campaigner.

The voters, the great mass of them, want a new man for Governor, one who upon the stump and in the varied channels of the campaign will appeal to their enthusiasm and lead them on to victory. Col. Parkhurst is that sort. With him as a candidate every cross-road hamlet will be organized, in every corner of the State his voice will be heard and his own enthusiasm will be communicated to the hearts of the voters.

It is through such legitimate channels as these that political victories are made great, and it is upon such grounds that The Courier-Gazette recommends the nomination of Col. Parkhurst.

No words uttered in commendation of the out-door dramatic entertainments recently given by our city schools ought to be considered extravagant. Familiarizing the pupils with writers and literature through the medium of the stage adds a zest to study by which its largest measure of success is attained. The English drama becomes a great storehouse of education to the boy or girl who is able to illustrate its study with costume and acting. Nor can we too highly praise the teachers who have started the lower grades in the study of Charles Dickens. The young pupils who dramatized scenes in "David Copperfield" and then acted them, with surprising skill, have inevitably taken on an acquaintance with the great author that will be an asset to them all their lives. Let us yield our warmest approval to the teachers who are giving their time and effort to this new phase of study. May they feel encouraged to press upon their young charges all the delightful legends of romance, the Shakespeare, the poetry and drama, the immortal creations of Dickens, that the pupils can possibly take aboard.

Golf is Senator Harding's particular hobby. He also is a great baseball fan and attends the game whenever possible.—Press report.

With these credentials, added to the fact that he is a successful newspaper man, there is no question that the Republican nominee will receive the popular support.

A Glencove man applauds the item which recently appeared in this paper relative to the lack of sportsmanship shown by the owners of hounds which are now being allowed to run loose and destroy the young rabbits. This scene is witnessed every day between Glencove and Rockport, and the people are rightfully indignant about the matter.

President George B. Wood of the Rockland & Rockport Lime Corporation, left last night for New York, where he will attend the annual convention of the National Lime Association. E. S. Levensaler, purchasing agent and assistant to the president, will also attend.

A dollar nowadays looks like 30 cents to the possessor, but here is a half-dollar which costs a dollar. It is the centennial issue, and may be obtained at the local banks, according to State Treasurer Simpson.

HARDING AND COOLIDGE

Ohio Senator Gets Presidential Nomination On Tenth Ballot; Gov. Coolidge of Massachusetts, the Vice President On the First Ballot.

Senator Warren G. Harding of Ohio was nominated for the Presidency late Saturday in the Republican national convention receiving a fraction over 602 votes on the tenth ballot.

In a dramatic session, in which Gov. Lowden of Illinois released all of his friends, and his delegates turned to Harding in rapid succession, the Harding landslide which started with a gentle movement early in the morning steadily and surely grew and resisted all attempts of the Wood and Lowden people to check it if they had a disposition to do so.

Senator Harding was in an ante-room nearby while the convention was casting the ballots which made him the nominee. For some of the time he chatted there with Gov. Lowden, who had given up the fight a few minutes before. Mrs. Harding also was with him. Col. Proctor, Gen. Wood's manager, and others visited Senator Harding and Gov. Lowden there while the convention was noisily and anxiously making history only a short distance away.

When the result was communicated to him by Charles B. Warren, of Michigan, Senator Harding left for his hotel with Mrs. Harding and announced that he would have no statement to make at the time.

It was just about the moment that Gov. Sprout, in person in his seat on the floor was casting the 60 votes from Pennsylvania which ran Harding's total over 520 and gave him the nomination.

As the convention realized that a nomination had been made, bedlam cut loose and there was an unrestrained demonstration for several minutes. When quiet was restored the calling of the roll was continued. Contrary to expectations, many of the remaining states held their original formations, giving complete and far-reaching votes to favorite sons or men whom they had been supporting. LaFollette held his 24 votes from Wisconsin to the last ballot and the convention and galleries hissed their delivery as usual. The Philippines remained faithful to Wood to the last. On an unofficial total Harding got 692 1-5 votes.

As his running mate the convention named Gov. Calvin Coolidge of Massachusetts, upsetting a plan of a combination of the Harding backers to nominate for the place Senator Irvine L. Lenroot of Wisconsin.

The one ballot taken for Vice Presidential candidate follows: Coolidge, 674½; including the solid support of New England States: Lenroot, 146½; Allen, 68½; Anderson, 28; Johnson, 22½; Grenna, 24; Prichard, 11. Total vote, 975; necessary for a choice, 488.

The doings of the Chicago convention were promptly bulletined at The Courier-Gazette office, each ballot being given in detail together with other important developments. Belief in a "dark horse" was expressed by the majority of those who anxiously scanned the despatches, yet so gradually did Senator Harding forge to the front that the significance of it was apparently not grasped. The original Harding man in the crowd was Fred W. Wright, who prophesied weeks ago that the Ohio man would be the logical choice, and who never faltered in that belief, even when the early balloting gave Harding only a handful of votes.

Senator Harding's nomination was forecasted by The Courier-Gazette during the Saturday afternoon recess, yet the crowd seemed hardly prepared for it, even when the 9th ballot showed that he had a larger vote than Wood, Lowden or Johnson had received at any time.

The nomination gave much satisfaction to those who knew Harding's reputation as a statesman, but it was the succeeding announcement of Coolidge's nomination for the Vice-Presidency which put the real "pep" into the situation and left the Republicans happy as clams at high water. "Isn't that about the best ticket yet?" asked W. L. Rokes, a stalwart Republican, and he seemed to reflect the opinion of a great many.

The Boston Post (Democratic) was so impressed with the ticket that it published on the first page of Sunday's issue a strong commendatory editorial. It is so much to the point, that it is here republished.

"The nomination by the Republicans at Chicago yesterday of Senator Warren G. Harding, of Ohio, for President and Gov. Calvin Coolidge of Massachusetts, for Vice President puts into the field of national politics a strong ticket, and one that is most creditable to the discernment and good sense of the gathering.

"Senator Harding has had a successful and creditable career as newspaper proprietor, lieutenant-governor or United States Senator. He has done his work well and with a tact that has not aroused animosities. In the recent contest in the Senate over the treaty and the League of Nations he has not taken such decided positions as would incur the hostility of the irreconcilables or the reservationists. He goes into the campaign with no legacy of factional enemies.

"Better still, from the standpoint of good citizens of both parties, Senator Harding's candidacy is free from the handicap of any monetary scandals attending his primaries campaign. His character is unassailable. He is a man of charming address; a good speaker and a ready debater. If he is not so well known to the country as some of the other aspirants for the nomination, he will soon remedy that lack, for he is a vigorous and persuasive campaigner. He has been identified with the conservative element of his party, but that fact will hardly militate against him with the rank and file of the Republicans in their gratitude at their escape from the vociferous Hiram Johnson.

"Gov. Coolidge admirably balances the ticket. His qualities of fidelity, courage and patriotism are now known not only in Massachusetts but the country over. It is no exaggeration to say that he personally will garner a great many votes for the party in eight months or so. He is to be congratulated for the high distinction that has come to him and the party is to be congratulated for obtaining him.

"The careers of Senator Harding and Governor Coolidge could be studied with profit by every young American. Both have been in very humble circumstances both owe their successes to amazingly hard work, rugged honesty and fidelity to ideals. Entirely aside from partisan politics one can take just pride in their achievements, so typically American and so illustrative of America's manifold opportunities.

"The Post is glad to see the Republicans nominate so good a ticket. It will serve to impress upon the Democratic convention the need of an exceptionally strong and popular combination in opposition. It needs no prophet to point out that the Democratic party will have to step lively to win against Harding and Coolidge."

Telegrams of congratulation from Senator Johnson, Gen. Wood and Herbert Hoover were promptly received by the Presidential nominee. Mr. Hoover said:

"I hasten to tender you my most cordial personal congratulations on your nomination and on the great opportunity which it affords you to interpret the desires of the American people."

SHOWING HOW THE BATTLE SURGED

The candidates who received scattering votes were Prichard, Sutherland, Hoover, Dupont, Borah, Warner, Knox, Watson, Kellogg, Ward, Lenroot, Hays and McGreggor. Maine's vote was practically unanimous for Gen. Wood on every ballot, one delegate supporting Hoover.

WEEK IN REVIEW

Adjournment of Congress

Congress adjourned sine die at 4 o'clock on the 5th of June, and will not meet again, unless convened in special session by the President, because of some grave emergency—until the 4th of December. As is always the case, the last few days were marked by a general scurrying in both houses to hurry through important measures. As usual, the effort was only partially successful; and some bills which were enacted failed to become law because they were not signed by the President before the adjournment of Congress. The law prohibits the President from passing on legislation when Congress is not in session. Among the measures which failed were the soldier bonus bill, the budget bill, the bill to regulate and control the meat packing industry, the cold storage bill, the bill to abolish the housing corporation, the rivers and harbors bill, and the water-power bill.

Important Laws Enacted

The session, however, was far from being barren of important legislation. Among the bills enacted were the army reorganization bill; the transportation act, designed to assist the railroads in the period immediately following their return to private control; the oil land leasing bill, which would lease thousands of acres of oil and mineral land and throw open to development; the merchant marine bill, providing for the sale of the government-owned merchant fleet; the Sterling anti-sedition act and the Johnson bill providing for the exclusion and expulsion of dangerous aliens; the Edge bill, authorizing the formation of corporations to finance American export trade; the civil service retirement bill; and the postal pay increase bill.

The German Elections

The elections in Germany on Sunday June 6, were not attended by the disorders and rioting anticipated in many quarters; but on the contrary, by widespread sanity and a light vote. The results showed heavy gains by both extremes—the Right and the Left. Two of the coalition parties—the Democrats and the Majority Socialists—lost heavily, while the reactionaries of the National People's Party gained considerably. The most sensational victories fell to the People's Party, formerly known as the National Liberal Party. This was a negligible quantity, with only about a score of members, in the late National Assembly; but it is now recognized as a new factor in German politics representing chiefly the power and the interests of wealth.

Prohibition Sustained

The long-deferred decision of the United States Supreme Court upon the validity of the Prohibition Amendment to the Federal Constitution, and of the Volstead Act, enacted for its enforcement, was given on the 7th of June. It was a bitter disappointment to the so-called "wets" who had confidently looked for a decision in their favor, and has even professed to have inside knowledge that the Court would sustain their contentions. On the contrary, the Court, by practically a unanimous opinion on the main issues involved, swept aside every contention against the validity of the national prohibition amendment, and against the constitutionality of the Volstead prohibition enforcement act. Four of the judges dissented from the majority views as to the meaning of the "concurrent power of enforcement" in the Amendment, but none of them questioned the constitutionality of the Amendment or the Volstead act.

Effect of the Decision

The effect of the decision was to dismiss the petitions, filed by the State of New Jersey and the State of Rhode Island to enjoin Federal officials from enforcing prohibition in those states, and half a dozen or more petitions from individual manufacturers and dealers in different States, to enjoin proceedings against them. The court ruled that prohibition is now operative throughout the entire territorial limits of the United States; is binding upon all legislative bodies, courts, public officers and individuals within those limits; and of its own force invalidate every legislative act, whether by Congress, or by any State or Territorial Legislature, which authorizes or sanctions what the Amendment prohibits.

As To "Concurrent Power."

As to the much-discussed second section of the Amendment, which declares that Congress and the several States shall have "concurrent power" to enforce the Amendment, the Court ruled that it does not enable Congress or the several States to defeat or thwart prohibition, but only to enforce it by appropriate means; and that the words do not mean joint power, or require that legislation thereunder by Congress, to be effective, shall be approved or sanctioned by the various States or any of them. The Court also ruled that Congress had not transgressed its powers in the provision of the Volstead act in fixing at one half of one percent of alcohol by volume the limit of liquors for beverage purposes.

FOR THIRTEENTH TIME

Judge Robert A. Cony of Augusta, was elected division commander of Sons of Veterans, Thursday, the closing day of the 38th annual encampment, which was entertained in Augusta by the Henry G. Staples Camp. Other officers elected were: Senior vice division commander, Frank C. Ayer of Auburn; junior vice division commander, Reuel L. Merrill of Gardiner; division secretary-treasurer, Edward K. Gould of Rockland; member of division council for three years, William E. Southard of Bangor; members of board of trustees of history and historical relics for three years, Edward K. Gould of Rockland and Harry W. Ferris of Waterville. Col. Gould who was re-elected secretary-treasurer of the Maine Division, has held that position for about 12 years. His annual report shows that there are now 47 camps in good standing in the division, these camps having a membership of 2,224. During the past years the charters of two camps were revoked. The encampment is in a good financial condition.

Wednesday afternoon the delegates and their ladies visited the National Soldiers' Home at Togus, the State House, the new executive mansion and other points of interest, and Wednesday evening a reception, concert and ball, complimentary to the officers and members of the Maine Division, Sons of Veterans, and auxiliaries was held at City hall.

Gray squirrels, finding their way in at the roof ventilator, have made a home in the Baptist church. One of them, being apprehended in the lobby, was so unappreciative of its privileges as to bite the pastor in the thumb. The Psalmist alludes to the sparrow and the swallow finding shelter in the house; evidently more agreeable poetic figures than the squirrel would make, if that is the way he is going to behave.

Col. Frederick H. There was also callers from several of the county towns, who gave the Colonel assurances that he would receive support in their several localities. Col. Parkhurst spoke briefly detailing his recent swing around the circle and saying that he had been not only gratified but surprised by the evidences he encountered of his growing strength in various parts of the State. He spoke handsomely of his rivals in the contest for the gubernatorial nomination, but assured his listeners that his canvass showed him to be leading all of them, and he presented particulars in support of that assertion. The Republican of Maine want a new candidate for Governor this time, he said, and were turning to him as the one most likely to lead the forces in September to a sweeping victory. Dr. W. L. West, the live-wire Belfast campaigner, who is a favorite on the Knox county stump, also spoke briefly, saying that Waldo county was going to give Col. Parkhurst rousing support. With Parkhurst as our candidate," he said, "we can hope to see Knox county brought back into the Republican column."

At "Jim's Corner" yesterday the proprietor was a "Sunny Jim." Indeed, Friends were smiling in honor of the arrival of his fourth child. Mr. and Mrs. Dondis now have two pairs, and Jim is quite sure that three of a kind cannot beat them.

Sunday's perfect weather was a great boon to the Crescent Beach House, which had one of the biggest days in its history. The patrons came straight from town and were so well pleased with the dinners served by Landford Smith that they announced their intention of coming again as often as circumstances will permit, and of advising friends of the outing is one which cannot be beaten.

The annual reception tendered by the High School Alumni Association to the members of the graduating class will take place in Temple hall Wednesday evening, June 23, following the graduation ball.

An exceptionally fine picture of Gov. Coolidge, the Republican nominee for vice president, and his wife, adorns The Courier-Gazette editorial rooms. Gov. and Mrs. Coolidge expressly posed for it Sunday at the request of Alton H. Blackington, a former Rockland boy, who is now staff photographer for the Boston Herald. Mr. Blackington, with his usual thoughtfulness, sends The Courier-Gazette a copy.

Samuel D. Haynes, who is here from Detroit on a fortnight's visit, spent Sunday in Thomaston, where he was the special guest of Oscar Blunt, a former overseer of the State Prison, and where he met many of his former associates. He was given a most cordial greeting by the prison officials, and will address the convicts at chapel next Sunday.

Contrary to the advertisement in Saturday's issue the class of 1920 has decided to sell no balcony tickets for the graduation ball one week from tonight. Ball tickets, only, will be sold.

Have you seen the Douglas Fairbanks picture, "His Majesty, the American," now showing at Park Theatre. Mary's husband sure does some wonderful stunts.

Dr. William Ellingwood now occupies his new home on Chestnut street, and is succeeded as a tenant at 102 Union street by H. A. Merrill, editor of the Messenger.

A fair-sized audience attended the wrestling carnival at the Rockland Athletic Club last night. Orest Valadi, the Italian champion won in two straight falls from Young Henderson, "The Masked Marvel," and claimant to the South American championship. John Palozzi won from George, also in two straight falls. Much cleverness was shown in the bouts, and wrestling fans were very enthusiastic.

The new street parking signs are being shown only a certain amount of reverence, and one, at least, is a decided nuisance to pedestrians. Reference is made to the sign near the corner of Main and School streets. School street is used by a majority of the people who go to the post office, is exceedingly busy and has a concrete sidewalk and with the parking sign as a further obstruction, it is a narrow thoroughfare, indeed. In this connection the following Associated Press despatch published in the Saturday press is of interest: "Silent policemen" so-called, used at street intersections for traffic purposes have been deemed to be traffic obstructions by the Connecticut Supreme court of errors in a decision just rendered. An automobile driven by an attorney collided with a 'sentinel.' He and other occupants of the car had slight injuries and the machine was damaged. A verdict of $3,500 against the city of New Haven was appealed but was upheld by the highest court."

SWAN'S ISLAND

It isn't sugar we want most, but salt. Where is that salt? The fishermen have been making good catches and the fishing is good, but the fish-stands for lack of salt cannot receive the fish and many of the fishermen have been obliged to go to Bass Harbor and to Vinalhaven to dispose of their fish.

If you want the Swan's Island news subscribe to The Courier-Gazette. Miss Wilson and her sister, Mrs. Lee, are now occupying the Wilson cottage at Lawson Beach.

Andrew Herick of Southwest Harbor and Will Trask of McKinley were business callers in Atlantic this week.

Dr. Thomas Tapley of Tremont was in town on consultation on Thursday. John Kelley of Prospect is visiting at Lezer Stanley's on the Point in Minturn.

Miss Doris Hatch has finished her term of school at Minturn and has returned home to East Sullivan. Capt. and Mrs. William H. Burns have gone to Deer Isle to visit their daughter, Mrs. A. O. Gross.

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Loring are expert Indian basket makers and are very busy at their camp at the old steamboat wharf of Atlantic, making and supplying all kinds of baskets to the people on the island.

The dance at Seaside Hall in Atlantic Friday under the direction of James Sprague, was very largely attended and autos were kept flying about all night bringing and returning people from Minturn and Old Harbor. Music was furnished by Bridge's Orchestra.

The schools at Atlantic have closed for the summer. Leland Trask, Beatrice Stockbridge, Maynard Staples, Kenneth Stanley and Frederick Gage received their diplomas.

Benjamin Gott and his son Rodney are rebuilding chimneys at Seth Joyce's house. Harvey Gilley has returned to Southwest Harbor. Carlyle Stockbridge is visiting with his parents at Rose Hill Farm.

Knox County Naval Reservists Can Make a Summer Trip To Europe.

The U. S. S. Frederick will sail from Newport, R. I., on or about July 25, for Antwerp, to be present at the Olympic games. The crew of this vessel will be composed largely of Reservists, and the following quota, which cannot be exceeded, has been allotted to the First Naval District:

12 boatswains' mates or Coxswains, 5 gunners' mates (g.), 3 gunners' mates (T), 1 turret captain (c), 3 quartermasters, 80 seamen, 4 electricians (G), 1 electrician (R), 1 carpenter's mate or shipwright, 1 shipfitter, 1 storekeeper, 1 painter, 2 chief machinists' mates, 6 machinists' mates, 5 engineers, 5 water tenders, blacksmith, 1 cooper, 60 firemen, 4 yeomen, 1 pharmacist's mate.

No chief petty officers will be accepted for this cruise except as noted above.

The attention of the members of the Naval Reserve Force is invited to this unusual opportunity to visit Belgium and be present at the Olympic games. This cruise should prove especially attractive to those members of the Naval Reserve Force who have not had an opportunity to qualify for confirmation of rating. In the case of Reservists who have completed more than one and less than three months sea duty, this cruise affords an unusual opportunity for getting the required amount of sea duty to be eligible for confirmation.

The present rate of pay of enlisted men is as follows: petty officers, first class $84 per month; petty officers, second class, $72 per month; petty officers, third class, $60 per month; nonrated men, first class $54 per month; nonrated men, second class, $48 per month; nonrated men, third class, $36 per month; firemen, first class, $54 per month, firemen, second class, $54 per month, firemen, third class $48 per month. Until peace is actually declared family allotments will be allowed.

Men selected from the First Naval District will report on board the Frederick at Newport on July 24. The cruise will be completed upon the ships return to the United States on or about September 25, at which time all members of the Naval Reserve Force will be returned to their homes, and received from enlisted men, a prompt reply will insure a man's selection for this summer cruise. Selection will be made in order of receipt of replies, preference being given to those first making application. All applications should be received not later than June 26, and addressed to Commander Lewis Cox, U. S. N., Navy Yard, Boston.

Mrs. Joel Meservy of Lincolnville, who has been visiting her son, Clarence, has returned home accompanied by her granddaughter Bernice.

“—EVERY WOMAN IS ENTITLED TO OUT-DOOR EXERCISE AND PLEASURE”

“When a woman is married and starts housekeeping she can easily continue her out-door exercise and pleasure if her home is equipped with an APEX ELECTRIC CLEANER. With an Apex she can whisk through her rooms in a fraction of the time taken by the old method--and know they are cleaner, too. The hours saved are hers--for pleasure and exercise.”

The house is cleaner because the strong, steady suction of air through the Apex insures that all the dust and dirt ground into the rugs, as well as the surface dust, will be drawn up into the dust bag.

The house is cleaner because the inclined nozzle of the Apex pokes into the hard-to-reach corners and greedily sucks up all the dust and dirt that lodges there.

The Apex way is the quickest way because there's no lost motion--every easy sweep of the cleaner means that the floor covered by that sweep is CLEANED and and it takes surprisingly few of these to clean even a large room.

The Apex way is the easiest way because the machine is so light and easy to handle that there is not the exertion necessary to clean the whole house, upstairs and down, that is required in wielding the broom in just one room.

It is a SAFER way, because the Apex gobbles up the germs that a broom only stirs up into the air in the room.

HAS TAKEN NEW LEASE ON LIFE

This Is the Way Davis H. Cain Says He Feels Since Tanlac Built Him Up.

"It is remarkable what Tanlac has done for me, and I am feeling so fine that I believe I have a new lease on life," was the statement made recently by David H. Cain, of 520 Congress St., Portland, Me. Mr. Cain is employed as a millman at 34-38 Union St., Portland.

"My health failed two years ago, and ever since then I have been going down hill so fast that I was nearly a wreck," he continued. "I was so nervous I could not hold a hammer in my hand. Why, I just shook like a leaf. My appetite had about left me and when I did eat a few bites I would bloat up with gas and have such awful pains in my stomach I could hardly get up from the table. My sleep was restless and some nights I would wake up as many as a dozen times, and then when morning came I was 'all in' and just had to drag myself off to my work. I was so run-down it was all I could do to hold on till night came and many a time my employer just came out and told me to stop work and go home, as I looked as weak as a rag. My knees and joints pained me and were so stiff I could not lift twenty pounds to my waistline."

"I was planning to give up work when a friend came to me and told me about Tanlac, so I took his advice, got me a bottle and commenced to feel better right away. In all I took four bottles of Tanlac and today I am feeling so fine I believe I could get out there in the street and out-run any man in a foot race. My nerves are as steady as a clock and I sleep so sound that the cars passing the house do not wake me up. And eat? Why, I eat three big meals every day and am never bothered one bit with gas or pains in my stomach. The pains and stiffness have left my joints and I feel as strong as two men and can do as big a day's work as any man. I believe Tanlac has added several years to my life and I can't recommend it too highly."

Tanlac is sold in Rockland by Corner Drug Store, F. M. White & Co., Vinalhaven, Whitney & Brackett, Thomaston, and by the leading druggist in every town.—adv.

The Chickawauke Camp Fire girls gave a bazaar June 5. The weather was very unpropitious, but the girls were in good spirits and carried out their program well. Dorothy Hill and Ethel Crier presided at the booth for fancy articles and needle work. It was daintily built, and trimmed in pink and white. Charlotte Simpson had the booth for flowers, which was trimmed in green and white. Florence Crier presided over the "grabs," which were required for a Chinese laundry. Mrs. Leslie Wilson cared for the Camp Fire literature. Gladys McClure and Julia Young served tea, sandwiches, cake, candy and ice cream. The girls all wore costumes appropriate to their booths. The proceeds of the bazaar are to be used in going camping at Crierhaven the last of the month. While there the girls expect to earn many honors in camp craft and out-of-door sports, swimming, rowing, fishing, weather signs, etc., to which they are looking forward with much pleasure and wish to thank all their friends who helped them in their work.

Harry A. Mather and family leave next Tuesday for North Hampton, N. H., where they will remain until September 1st. Councilman Mather's host of friends will regret to learn that he contemplates locating in another city next fall.

Great breadth through the sides and a general shortness of lines from front to back still characterize the fall millinery models in Paris. Crowns continue low and capacious. Many are in brief shape and many are in sectional, pointed, Chinese styles. Velvet crowns with felt brim and velvet crowns with feather brim are strongly featured. Cloche shapes in medium size dominate. Turbans are also conspicuous, however, especially the boat turban, are still in good repute. Marked irregularity of brim is a characteristic of many of the newest models, the brim rolling gently away from the face across the sides and front, while across the back it is broad, straight and flat.—Paris correspondence of the Dry Goods Economist.

FULLER-COBB-DAVIS

Los Angeles rate of growth was 80.3 per cent compared with San Francisco's rate of 21.9 per cent during the ten years.

Los Angeles may take rank as ninth largest city of the country as a result of the 1920 census, coming just below Pittsburgh, the present population of which is 588,193. Detroit, ninth city in 1910, with 465,766 and whose 1920 population has not yet been announced, will have to show an increase of more than 110,000 people to pass Los Angeles mark and maintain her position, and will have to show a growth of at least 44,000 to pass San Francisco and more than 40,000 to pass Buffalo.

North National Bank

IN earlier days banking institutions held aloof from the daily life of commerce—merchants came, hat in hand, and their business was accepted or not accepted.

TODAY, every progressive bank realizes that its own well-being and growth hinges on the extent of its usefulness to the business life of the community. IT INVITES BUSINESS.

As every merchant is eager for as large a volume of trade as his establishment can properly handle, so are we eager for the banking business of individuals, merchants and manufacturers, to the limit of our ability to care for it and WE INVITE IT.

FLAG DAY OBSERVED

Rockland Elks Held Interesting Services Sunday—Hon. L. A. Jack the Speaker.

Flag Day exercises of an interesting character were held on the premises of Rockland Lodge, B. P. O. E. Sunday afternoon. The program was deferred until 5 o'clock so as to convenience many who wished to attend the band concert at Oakland Park, and in consequence of the thoughtfulness on the committee's part there was a large gathering in front of the Elks Home when the hour arrived.

The speaker's stand erected for Pershing Day was also used on this occasion and the large State flag hung alongside Old Glory across the lawn. Instrumental music was furnished by Marston's Orchestra, beginning with "Star Spangled Banner" and closing with "America." A medley introducing popular and patriotic airs, was a feature.

Prayer was offered by Rev. Pliny A. Allen, Jr., after which Exalted Ruler Frank A. Turrell, Jr., explained the purposes of Flag Day and conducted the ritual exercises. The officers of Rockland Lodge who assisted were Charles W. Brown, eastern body, leading knight; Dr. W. Harrison Sanborn, acting as esteemed lecturing knight; A. W. Clarke, secretary; and E. Russell Richardson, esquire.

The history of the flag was read by Past Exalted Ruler G. B. Baxter, after which the floral bell of Liberty was formed by the chair officers. The base of the bell was red roses, the middle section white lilies and the upper section violets. The cross arm which surmounted the bell was composed of evergreen and stars.

The Elks' Tribute to the Flag was given by Past Exalted Ruler John A. Karl, who, following his usual custom, spoke entirely without notes. His manner of delivery was exceptionally clear and effective.

The address was delivered by Hon. Louis A. Jack of Lisbon Falls, who lived up to the eloquent introduction given him by Past Exalted Ruler William W. Case. Mr. Jack found his efforts considerably hampered by the noise of passing trolley cars and automobiles, but his address of half an hour held the very closest attention of the audience. He said in part:

"In the year 1820 there was emblazoned on the flag of Liberty a new star called Maine. You have a right to be proud of Maine; for it is destined to be the brightest star in the diadem of 48 states. After 100 years of statehood we find ourselves but on the threshold of the twentieth century, and while men may differ as to the methods to be employed, all loyal citizens will agree that none but men 100% loyal to Maine should be left on guard.

"We cannot continuously legislate for one group alone for to think so would be to go to sleep on the pillow of delusion. Legislation that would strip Maine of her water powers that New York capitalists may luxuriate in their marble palaces while the laborers and farmers of Maine strive for a scant existence would be one of the greatest crimes of the twentieth century.

"God sifted whole nations that he might send the choicest grains of manhood to build up the West. He inspired a republic unequalled in the history of the world. While the fires of civilization were first kindled in the Eastern Hemisphere it remained for this nation to furnish the spark that lighted the torch of freedom that now illuminates the world.

"No man who has in his heart the true American spirit can view this flag standing as it does for Liberty and Justice, the star of Bethlehem to the down trodden peoples of the earth without feeling that this Republic was conceived by God on virgin soil for the emancipation of the human race.

"We stand before the world today as a free people, a friend to all and a foe to none. Our shoulders are not bowed by the yoke of military autocracy and, by the grace of God, may they never be. Our course has not been free from strife; our soldiers have stained the hillsides with their blood to protect the honor of our country and keep untarnished the principles for which our flag stands."

PARK THEATRE

"Never saw anything like it" remarked a Park Theatre patron yesterday, after the Douglas Fairbanks performance in "His Majesty, the American." Billy's assistance to the city detectives when they raid a low "dive" on a hunt for a kidnapped girl is given with the dash and success that seems always to carry "Doug" to heights of admiration on the part of his devotees. When the over-zealous police officers make the town so "safe" that neither policemen nor firemen have any more fun, Billy goes off on a hunt for new fields of excitement. He starts for Mexico, while matters at home in the little kingdom in Europe are fermenting into civil strife.

"The Island of Intrigue," the feature for Wednesday, only, with charming May Allison in the starring role, is a sensational romance of adventure and intrigue which thoroughly appealed to the large audience which saw it. The plot reveals the daring abduction of a beautiful society girl by a clique of swindlers who secretly carry her off to a remote island in the Pacific ocean. Here she is held for ransom but the high spirited heroine, of the million, outwits the schemers and manages her escape and the apprehension of the desperate band by means of a secret wireless. In an unexpected and surprising manner romance comes to the lonely island where the girl meets the man of her heart. It is a screen story of remarkable appeal and shows Miss Allison in a role which mirrors her winsome and charming personality. There will also be three acts of vaudeville Wednesday.

RAISING THE DICKENS

Great Novelist's Characters Admirably Presented by Pupils of Rockland Grade Schools.

A more beautiful spot was never provided by nature than the one on the High School grounds, utilized by the divisions of the 6th and 7th grades of the McLain building, June 11, when they presented parts from Dickens' famous novel, "David Copperfield."

The 6th grade program was the dramatization of "David's Visit to Yarmouth." It was given by the following students: Inez Baum as Peggotty; Norman Waldron, David Copperfield; Hugh Little, Ham; Evelyn Mossman, Mrs. Gurrig; Vera Studley, Emily; and Oliver Rollins, Mr. Peggotty. The following pupils of the 7th grade impersonated characters from the novel, calling upon the audience to guess the representation: Peggotty, Mary Pratt; Mrs. Copperfield, Helen Field; Mr. Murdstone, Fred Ingerson; Betsy Trotwood, Mary Wasgatt; Janet, Barbara Wiggin; Miss Murdstone, Winola Richan; Emily, Marion Marsh; David, Herbert Prescott; Mr. Micawber, Horace Maxey; Mrs. Micawber, Jean Scott; Agnes, Evangeline Barrett; Mr. Dick, Allen Davis; Grown-up David, Raymond Perry; Mrs. Gummidge, Eleanor Snow; Dora, Ruth Sylvester; Barkis, Charles Tweedie; Uriah Heep, Winston Fifield. They also dramatized a part of "David's Trip to School." Billy Large as the waiter at the inn made a hit with the part.

Vivien Sartelle and Marion Richardson arranged the program. The choosing of the cast was by the vote of the classes. Each individual was responsible for his own costume. The play was given under the supervision of Miss Aageson, Miss Griffith and Miss O'Brien, teachers in the two grades. The stage managers were John McLoon and Wilbur Frohock, who also had charge of the scenery; nearly all of which was made by the pupils.

TIE UP YOUR DOG

Don't Let Him Run At Large During the Close Sport Season.

Editor of The Courier-Gazette: During the past few years and especially in the open season I have listened with regret to a number of gunners, so-called "sportsmen," complaining in regard to the lack of game in the nearby woods and covers. I regret also to say that not all, but a few, of the same kickers are the very ones who allow their dogs to run at large during the closed season. They say that the dogs can do no harm. Think it over, boys, and especially those who have not the time and means to travel long distances, and have very little time for sport and recreation. If your dog is abusing your privileges perhaps your neighbor's dog is. Talk it over with him. Everybody knows that a dog, if hungry and at large, will eat almost anything in the way of food, making the young animals and young birds easy prey for a dog in that condition. So if you or your friend have a dog of any description that has acquired this habit, for your sake and for the continuance of America's greatest sport and recreation, chain him up.

What's become of the prejudice against automobiles because they frightened the horses

NOW cars are everywhere. The horses have gotten used to them—and so has everybody else. Think of it! This year the American people will spend nearly a billion dollars on tires alone.

Tires are one of the biggest items on the car owner's bills.

Hardly a Saturday, when you motorists drop in to "tune up" for a Sunday trip, that one or more of you doesn't tell us something of value to our business. Sooner or later it comes back to you in Service.

Service is what the car owners of this community are looking for nowadays.

And especially the small car owners, who put service first in figuring their motor-ing expenditures.

Just because a man has a moderate-price car is no reason why he should get any less service out of his tires.

We believe that the man with the small car is entitled to just as good tire service as the man with the big car—and both are entitled to the best tire service they can get.

That's why we represent U. S. Tires in this community.

And why more car owners—large and small—are coming to us every day for U. S. Tires.

Come in and talk to us about tires. We're here to help you get the kind of tires you want.

Select your tires according to the roads they have to travel:
In sandy or hilly country, wherever the going is apt to be heavy—The U. S. Nobby.

For ordinary country roads—The U. S. Chain or Usco.

For front wheels—The U. S. Plain.

For best results—everywhere—U. S. Royal Cords.

EMPIRE THEATRE

William S. Hart as proprietor of a modiste shop—a bashful western cowboy hobnobbing with models attired in lingerie—was a scream yesterday. Don't miss today's showings of this humorous picture.

The midweek feature is "Triflers," with Edith Roberts starring. This tells the story of a girl who tries to lift herself out of her station in life and then finds that the place which she presently occupies is really lower than her former plane. The shop girl has a sweetheart, Dan Cassidy of the motorcycle squad. But she feels that Dan does not measure up to the fastidious Monte, leader of the younger fashionable set. So she decides to get a first hand society experience and finally appears in Monte's home for a weekend party. The behavior of the so-called society set was an eye-opener for the girl and she then began to appreciate the good folks of her former environment. A photoplay of dramatic power is said to be unfolded and the girl, disillusioned, flew to the arms of her former sweetheart when a speeding automobile brings him to Monte's estate.—Adv.
